June 3rd is World Bicycle Day. Bikes are popular types of transportation (交通类型) after buses and subways in the world.

- ◆ Would you like to ride bikes to school?
- ◆ What do children in Germany (德国) need when riding bikes?

Linda

I'd like to go to school by bike. My home isn't far from school. Every morning I ride my bike through (穿过) a beautiful park. I can enjoy the beautiful flowers and clean air.

Tom

I ride my bike to school everyday. I think riding a bike is a good way to keep healthy. I also join a bike riding club to practice riding every weekend.

In Germany, children must go to school by bike with a bike license (驾照). When they are in Grade 5, they must have about 30 lessons first. After that, they can have two paper tests. Then, they do some riding practice at school. The policemen can give students more help. At last, the students have a test on the road. If they pass (通过) the test, they can ride bikes on the road!

Some students think it is a little difficult to pass the test. But it is really important for them to learn to follow rules and keep safe (安全的) on the road.

51. How does Linda go to school everyday?

- A. On foot B. By bus C. By subway D. By bike

52. Why does Tom go to school by bike everyday?

- A. Because he thinks riding a bike is a good way to keep healthy.
B. Because he wants to join a bike riding club.
C. Because his home is near the school. D. Because he is not healthy.

53. What do children in Germany need when riding hikes?

- A. Two paper tests. B. 30 lessons. C. A bike license. D. The policemen's help.

B

Father's Day is on the third Sunday of June. On that day, we show our love to our fathers. A father's love is like a mountain. Few (很少) of us really know that. But in the U.S. movie I Am Sam, I see this kind of love.

Sam Dawson has a 7-year-old daughter. Her name is Lucy. Because Sam has mental disability (精神疾病), people think he can't look after Lucy and they send (发送) her away to another family. But Sam does many jobs, because he wants to see Lucy. One night, Lucy goes to Sam's house. She tells him that she doesn't want to go back, but Sam takes her back to her new family's home again. What Sam does touched (感动了) Lucy at last.

This movie tells us what parents' love is. Sam knows how to love her daughter. He always tries his hardest to bring up (培养) Lucy right. He will do it all the time.

Fathers' love is important. The U.S. writer Fanny Fern said, "To kids, the name of father is another name for love."

54. Who has mental disability?

- A. Lucy. B. Sam Dawson. C. Fanny Fern. D. Lucy's new family.

55. What does the movie I am Sam want to tell us?

- A. Parents' jobs. B. Parents' love. C. Mental disability. D. Mental development.

56. Where can you most probably read this passage?

- A. Movie magazines (杂志). B. Travel guide (导游) books.
C. Health magazines. D. Club ads.

C

It is a fine day today. The sky is blue. Now it's ten o'clock in the morning. There's a sports meeting in the forest.

Look! A horse, a panda and a cat are running. A dog and two tigers are jumping over there. Two monkeys are climbing the trees. Four birds are flying around and singing.

There are some other animals there, too. The elephants are standing. A monkey is sitting on an old elephant. The monkey has a flag in his hand. Polly is sitting in a tree. A fox, a baby panda and some small animals are sitting under the trees. They are all watching.

We all know that many people like to go to the cafe and drink some coffee or tea there. They can talk with other people and listen to some music when they are drinking coffee. However, the “silent cafe” (沉默的咖啡馆) is very popular in Tokyo, Japan these days.

A young woman sits in a cafe. She is drinking tea and reading a book. She writes some words on the notebook and then she gives it to the cafe worker. It says: “Where are the toilets, please?”

We can see many “silent cafes” in Tokyo. They look the same as the other cafes. But people in “silent cafes” don’t speak, they communicate (交流) with each other by (通过) writing words on the notebook.

The “silent cafes” are very popular in Tokyo, because some people there are under too much pressure (压力) of work, and they need a place to make themselves quiet.

61. Where can we see “silent cafes” according to the passage?

- A. In London.    B. In Tokyo.    C. In Washington.    D. In Beijing.

62. The underlined word “She” refers to (指的是) “___”

- A. talking to each other                      B. singing to each other
C. writing words on a notebook              D. drinking coffee

64. Why do people like “silent cafes”?

- A. Because the coffee there is very cheap. B. Because they can stay there for a long time.
- C. Because they can make themselves quiet from the pressure of work.
- D. Because the coffee is good.

65. What's the best title for the passage?

- A. Let's Go to the Cafe
- B. The "Silent Cafes"
- C. Drinking Coffee Can Make People Relaxed
- D. A Story about a Woman

IX. 任务型阅读 (共 5 小题, 每小题 2 分, 计 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 按要求完成 66 至 70 题。

Hello, my name is Li Lin. You can call me Jack. I'm a 14- year-old school boy. Now, I am studying at a school in the U.K. Let me tell you about the fun things I do in this country.

I like riding my bike in the U.K. I can get anywhere on my bike in Cambridge. It's really fun. But riding a bike in the U.K is different from that in China.

First, you have to ride on the left of the road. In China, you ride on the right. When I went to the UK for the first time, I rode on the right of the road. Cars ran fast by me. It was terrible.

Second, the U.K. bikes have lights on them. They have a white light at the front and a red one at the back. You use them at night and early in the morning.

Third, in China, bikes usually have a stand (支架). But you can't find them on most the UK bikes. Why? You can't leave your bike where you want. You have to put it in a bike park. It's a good idea.
